In the Fall

Coal and fuel oil bids were awarded last evening when directors of Bristol township school district held their August meeting in the junior high school building on Rogers road. A teacher who had been engaged at the July meeting tendered her resignation last evening due to illness in her family.

The meeting was presided over by James Robinson.

The bid for furnishing coal for the various buildings in the township was awarded the lone bidder, Artesian Coal Company. There was but one bidder on fuel oil, also, the contract being awarded to Paul C. Voltz for supplying oil to junior high school building and Newportville school.

The teacher who resigned is Miss Anna C. Hollister, who was to have taught fifth grade at Edgely school. Named to this post last evening is Miss Cora W. Goldweber. The resignation of Mrs. Alexandria Miesko as librarian was also accepted by the board.

Enumeration of children of school age has been completed in the township, the board was informed. Of the 2200 in the district, 1700 will attend the Bristol township public schools, records show. This is a great increase over last term, directors state. Due to the increase it is felt it may be necessary to open another class-room, possibly using for such one section of the auditorium at the community house at Bristol Terrace II. If this is done it will be necessary to hire an additional teacher, directors claim.

Robert Cameron, tax collector, was in attendance at the session. He was exonerated from responsibility for uncollected taxes on the 1946 duplicate.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

A "doggie" roast in honor of Mrs. John Passanante's birthday anniversary was held on the lawn of her home in Landreth Manor on Monday. A buffet repast was served and games were played. Those attending included: Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Farruggio and son Joseph, Mr. and Mrs. Augustine Passanante and daughter Patricia; Mr. and Mrs. Bartholomew Passanante and children, Augustine and Patricia; Mrs. Patricia Passante, Mrs. Joseph Farruggio and children Carmella, Dora, Joseph and Jennie; Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Marino and children, James and Roseann; Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Mangiaracina, Sr.; Bristol; Frank Gervasio, Trenton, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Marino and children James and Roseann; Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Mangiaracina, Sr.; Mr. Joseph Farruggio and children, Jennie and Joseph; and Miss Carmella Farruggio, Bristol; Mrs. Dominick Gervasio and son Frank, Trenton, N. J.; visited Joseph Farruggio in Atlantic City, N. J., where he is spending two weeks.

WORTHINGTON-LANOMT

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Margaret Lamont, of Lansing, Mich., and Mr. Lewis M. Worthington, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis M. Worthington, of Bristol. The marriage took place on August 2nd in Central Methodist Church of Lansing, with the Rev. Mr. Coores officiating. The couple are residing at East Lansing.

Hittler said: "Parties were in the way of my program. They have disappeared. Parliament objected to my reforms. It has disappeared also."

Mussolini said: "The Chamber of Deputies does not please me. . . . It is an institution extraneous . . . to our feelings as Fascists."

These men vetoed not only legislation but legislatures. Their words should be read in connection with the President's veto of the tax bill.

Is America going to continue to move toward one-man rule? Hitler taxed Germany by personal decree. When Mr. Truman refused to permit Congress to reduce taxes he, in effect, taxed America by personal decree.

For the first time in history, a President has overruled Congress on a tax bill. No respect was paid to what has been the unwritten law of this Republic for 158 years, that only the representatives of the people shall tax the people. The Boston Tea Party said so in 1773. If we had "tea in our shoes" we would also do something equally dramatic and effective. It would have been a heartening thing if the leaders of Congress had met this challenge by boldly refusing to pass a single appropriations bill until Mr. Truman had agreed to abide by the unwritten law. Congress might then have had a place in history such as that of

A SUMMARY OF THE NEWS

Charges and denials continued yesterday to enliven the Senate committee's investigation of military plane contracts awarded to Howard Hughes. A committee lawyer accused of having said that Elliott Roosevelt was the chief target of the inquiry took the stand to deny it. After Mr. Hughes had characterized Senator Brewster's testimony as "a pack of lies," the two agreed to let the matter stand on the record and the committee closed that phase of the inquiry.

President Truman signed a bill instituting a program of promotion by merit in the armed services. He refused to discuss Republican claims of budget cuts until he had received a report from the Budget Bureau. The President said he and the people wanted the facts.

The new single Federal housing agency will be headed by Raymond M. Foley, Mr. Truman announced. The President also made five other key appointments. In New York, city and state officials agreed to speed low-rent public housing by erecting new homes on vacant lots and remodeling existing buildings.

Pvt. Ernest Boan Now
Serving on Kyushu Isle

Pvt. Ernest Boan, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Boan, is serving with the 13th Field Artillery Battalion, a unit of the 24th Infantry Division. The 24th Division, better known as the "Victory" Division, is now occupying the entire island of Kyushu, the third largest and southernmost island of the Japanese home islands. Entering the Army, Sept. 24, 1946, he was sent to Ft. Bragg, N. C., for his basic training and upon completion was sent to Camp Stoneman, Cal., for assignment overseas. He arrived in Japan, Dec. 29th.

Contributing to the high morale of the 24th Division troops is an extensive summer athletic program in such sports as baseball, softball, volleyball, tennis and golf. Other recreational facilities include well-equipped gymnasiums and first run "movies" in comfortable, newly-constructed theatres.

SELLERSVILLE ORDERS
WATER MAIN REPAIRS7-Point Program Disposed Of by Council of That Borough

DRAINAGE PROBLEM

SELLERSVILLE, Aug. 8.—Sellersville borough councilmen disposed of a seven-point program of public work needs at the August meeting this week.

The most serious point was the fact that there has been a break discovered in the principal water main of the borough, on the east side of the concrete bridge on Church street. It was reported that a half million gallons of water have been lost through the break.

The street department has been ordered to make repairs as soon as possible. This is the second break at that point in six months. Borough officials believe that the bridge is settling and breaking the big pipe line.

Another problem previously reported was the traffic hazard created by the concrete abutment of the bridge at 309 and Church street. This obstructs the view of motor cars entering the Bethlehem pike. An order was issued that the concrete is to be torn out and replaced with a pipe railing.

Because of bad drainage condition, council issued an order that Diamond street residents are to fix all gutters now in a state of disrepair. To improve other drainage conditions that had been listed on the July report, council ordered the Atlantic Refining Company to install a proper entrance drive to its filling station, allowing for a gutter drain; and a suitable drainpipe was ordered laid at the Fillman driveway, on Clymer avenue.

Council found itself without authority to act in two of the instances on which there had been complaints. In one, the matter of wash water being discharged from homes and yards into gutters or over lawns, council recommended that the board of health enforce the proper ordinance and require correction of objectionable conditions. In another where there is an open drainage ditch on North Branch street, council found the nuisance is a private one, and the remedy lies in the hands of the neighbors.

Residents of the Ninth street section, who have recently found their private wells to be contaminated from some unknown source, have appealed to council for the extension of a water main to their properties. Council took the matter under advisement and may comply, although no action was taken at the time.

AN OPEN LETTER TO WAR VETERANS

Fellow Americans:

There's a political campaign on. It's turning into the hottest fight of the year. The eyes of the nation are on the Bucks-Lehigh Congressional District. Here we're having a preview of the political showdown next year for the Presidency of the United States.

The election is for a Congressman to finish the term of the late Charles L. Gerlach. THE ELECTION is on September 9—not the primary, but the final election. The day is the same as the regular Fall Primaries. But it's an election for the Congressional candidates—there's no "second guess" coming up in November.

Ordinarily, one seat more or less in Congress doesn't make a great deal of difference. A by-election or special election such as this usually creates little interest. The votes are light.

But if the importance of the issues is going to determine the number of votes, this ought to be the biggest turnout in years! This election is being used by OUTSIDERS TO THE DISTRICT in a fight for very big stakes.

THE LABOR BOSSES lost their battle with Congress to block the passage of laws turning the unions back to the members, and trying to stop the waves of needless, disastrous strikes.

These BOSSES got the President to veto the Labor Bill—but Congress passed it over the veto, with plenty to spare. Nearly all Republicans voted for that law. So did more than half the Democrats in the two Houses of Congress.

THERE CAN'T BE MUCH WRONG WITH A LAW WHEN IT ATTRACTS SUCH OVERWHELMING SUPPORT FROM BOTH POLITICAL PARTIES IN CONGRESS—by men who soon will have to go before the voters again for re-election!

But the labor bosses don't like that law. Of course they don't! The purpose of that Act was to take the labor movement away from the dictators and give it back to the men and women who make up the membership of the unions.

The national labor bosses have jumped into the local election with both feet—men who don't live in Bucks or Lehigh Counties, who never expect to live here, and don't give a continental what happens to the District.

They are trying to use this election to smash down the new Labor Law—the law which the President asked for eighteen months ago, which the American people demanded last year, and which Congress labored over for six months before final passage.

They are trying to hypnotize the union members to believe cepts Resignation of the Instructor

ADOPT THE CALENDAR

PERKASIE, Aug. 8.—The vocational agriculture course of Sellersville-Perkasie high school was officially discontinued, this week, at a meeting of the joint board of education in the high school. The resignation of the agriculture instructor, D. K. Endslo, was accepted.

A discussion was held on automobile driving instruction for the students, but no action was taken. The board accepted the school calendar, which will start September 2 and end June 9.

The dental hygienist, formerly employed by the Perkaskie school district, will be employed by the joint districts. It was announced. Repairs have been completed on the stands at the athletic field and the pavements in front of the high school.

Two substitute teachers were elected at a meeting of the Sellersville board. They are: Mrs. Ruth Lohman, Bethlehem, who will be a full time substitute for the first grade for the school year, and Mrs. William Rufe, Sellersville, who will teach the kindergarten. Miss Ruth Bringard will have charge of the school census.

The Perkaskie board accepted the resignation of Mrs. Louise Jacoby as a kindergarten teacher and elected Miss Florence Hackett, Perkaskie, as a substitute instructor in that department. Mrs. Ella Greene, principal of the Arch street school, will be in charge of the school census.

"SUPPORT" BALANCE

NEW YORK, N. Y., Aug. 8.—A resident of this city has asked the U. S. District Court to compel her estranged husband, a resident of Bucks County, Penna., to pay for support of herself and three children.

Mrs. Helen A. Gonzales is asking for the sum of $4,417 from John L. Gonzales, of Williams street, Cornwells Heights, Pa., for support of the four.

In her petition, Mrs. Gonzales said that on February 24th, 1944, her husband had agreed to pay her $60 a week on a support order issued by Chancellor Luther A. Campbell in the New Jersey Chancery Court. Between the date of the order and February 22, 1947, Mrs. Gonzales said her husband should have paid her $2560 instead of the $4942 she said she received.

Morrisville Speaker Is
Guest of Kiwanis Club

SOUTH LANGHORNE, Aug. 8.—Cole Morgan, of the Vulcanized Rubber and Plastics Company, spoke on "The History and Operations of the Vulcanized Rubber and Plastics Company" when he addressed members of Bucks County Lincoln Highway Kiwanis Club Tuesday evening. The dinner session was at Royal Gardens, Bensalem township.

Morgan discussed the manufacture of hard rubber articles such as combs, pipe bits, insulation and sheet materials produced by his concern. A display of sample pieces of rubber in various stages of processing added interest to the talk. The adaptation of the company's facilities to production for the war effort was a point of particular interest.

Harris Murray presented as his guests Peter Devine, charter member of the Langhorne Lions Club, as donor of a cup to be awarded the championship Kiwanis Boys' Softball League team, and Joseph A. Zalot, Langhorne postmaster, who is taking the Langhorne American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps to Pittsburgh to compete for the state championship. The club has added $50 to funds for the trip.

Frank Sodano is chairman of the arrangements for a picnic for club members and families at Hulmeville Park, August 23rd, from two p. m. until dark.

The board of directors authorized the retention of Lawrence Monroe as attorney for the club in connection with the proposed changes at the Reading Railroad crossing at South Langhorne.

H. A. Waldkoenig presided at the session.

Indians Too "Hidebound
in Caste System"

SPEAKER FOR ROTARY

"Although all the peoples of India are looking for freedom it will be difficult of attainment because they are very hidebound in their caste system, and they have no moral standards of love and devotion for country which motivates our country and the Christian world in general," was the observation made by Dr. William Meek when he addressed Bristol Rotarians at the Elks' Home yesterday afternoon. Dr. Meek spent 9½ years in the publishing business in China and India.

Dr. Meek related many of his personal experiences while in India, and following his talk answered a number of questions for the members. Guests were present from Morrisville, Bensalem and Philadelphia. Vice-President Warren Woodruff was in charge of the meeting.

Next week's meeting will take the form of a joint pilgrimage of the Bensalem and Bristol Clubs to the Bucks County Boy Scout Camp at Point Pleasant. Bristol members will assemble in front of the Elks' Home next Tuesday evening at 5:45 when they will leave in a group.

OTHER WILLS LISTED

DOYLESTOWN, Aug. 8.—With the exception of a bequest of $300 to a sister-in-law, Mary Wilson, and an electric saw, tools and a watch and chain to a son, Wilkins Harker, the $2000 personal estate of Harry Harker, Bristol, will be inherited by four beneficiaries, Frank Harker, Wilkins Harker, Emily McLaughlin and Edwin Harker. The testator, who died July 5, wrote his will March 5, 1945. Wilkins Harker, Juliettown, N. J., was named executor.

Leaving a personal estate of $7000 and real estate valued at $500, Joseph P. Schaick, Upper Makefield township, bequeathed his home, "Highland School House," to his son, Edwin S. Schaick.

The testator, who died July 8, bequeathed two grandsons, William and Charles, each $500. Two sons, George and Jacob, who were named executors, and two daughters, Bertha Chipping and Emily Bauer, will share the residuary estate. The will was executed October 26, 1942.

In a holographic will written while he was steward of Torresdale-Frankford Country Club, and on club stationery, Frank Wilmore Hall, Bensalem township, named his widow, Mary Mair Hall, Cornwells Heights, the sole beneficiary. The will, which was less than four paragraphs in length, was written in pen and ink and dated Feb. 5, 1931. The testator, who also named the widow executrix, died July 3. The estate was valued at $345.

John Thomas Harris, Lower Makefield township, who died April 11 and left a personal estate of $500 and real estate valued at $5000, bequeathed one-half to his wife, Dorothy Matilda Harris, by his second marriage.

One-fourth was given to a grandson, Ronald Norman Brown, and one-fourth to a granddaughter, Thyllis O. Brown. Real estate consisted of 12 and one-half acres in Oxford Valley. The testator, who wrote his will Feb. 1, named Harold Brown, Prospect Heights, Trenton, N. J., executor.

The $2000 personal estate of Abba LaRue Tettemer, Morrisville was bequeathed to her husband, Ellis Tettemer, 299 North Pennsylvania avenue, Morrisville. The testatrix, who died June 3, wrote her will Feb. 17.

Beneficiaries in the will of Sallie G. McClanen, Newtown, include three grandchildren, Robert E. Donald D. and Elaine McClanen; a great-grandson, Robert E. McClanen, and a son, Edmund C. Discover Fake Claims Running Into Thousands Harrisburg—Gov. James H. Duff revealed today that irregularities in the Philadelphia Workmen's Compensation office involving payment of an undetermined number of fake claims running into thousands of dollars have been discovered.

The chief executive said two adjusters for the insurance fund had resigned and two others had been suspended as a result of the investigation by State Police.

In 35 of 145 cases investigated in the area, Gov. Duff said, peculations involved approximately $10,000.

A statement issued by the Governor asserted: "The total loss will very greatly exceed this amount, however, although the definite amount of the loss cannot be ascertained until all the accounts have been examined and a complete check made."

FRIDAY, AUGUST 8, 1947

PURELY SENTIMENTAL
The prairie dog, picturesque ground squirrel of the West, may be the next creature to follow the bison into extinction as a victim of the march of civilization and the demand for progress.

The bison was exterminated because he was too useful. He provided fuel for western camp-fires on plains devoid of trees.
More important, he furnished a valuable source of meat and hides which served for robes and other purposes.

The bison was the first western resource to be depleted by short-sighted men whose only thoughts were for the needs of the moment.
Of course, in a hostile country, the needs of the moment often were great.

The prairie dog survived the bison because the prairie dog was of no use to anyone. Only a world controlled by thoughtless humans would grant such a premium to uselessness, but that is something for the philosophers to worry about.

Artists have always liked to draw and paint prairie dog towns with their numerous tunnel openings resembling small volcanic craters. Small boys, from pioneer times to the present, have found millions of hours of entertainment watching jumping-jack prairie dogs pop in and out of their holes.
They have spent other innumerable hours trying, usually without much success, to shoot the dogs with arrows, slingshots and rifles.

As long as land was plentiful, no one minded particularly that the prairie dogs ate a lot of forage that cattle and sheep might have used, or that they made the areas occupied by their towns unfit for farming.

Land isn't so plentiful any more, however. A prairie dog does not justify his existence just because he is picturesque, men have decided. He is not only useless—he actually is harmful; he must go.

Programs to poison prairie dogs out of existence have been under way in many parts of the West for a number of years. A few kind words for the prairie dog, whom the scientists call synonyms ludovicianus, may not be amiss. He is provident and diligent in storing food. He is an excellent engineer and farsighted enough to provide his tunnel home with numerous outlets. He is a clean animal and doesn't drink—not even water.

At risk of being called foolish sentimentalists, many grownups, who used to be small boys, or girls, would like to advocate the setting aside of a few suitable plots for the occupancy of prairie dogs—sort of special refuges, properly fixed so the prairie dogs could not migrate, places where father could drive on Sunday to show Junior the wonders of nature and what a clean town looks like.

President Truman wants Congress to let down the immigration bars for "displaced persons." Truman, it seems, dotes on being wrong and President.

SPORTSMEN'S

BRIEFS

By JOE ELBERSON

Practice shoot . . . this Sunday, August 10th, the traps of the Bristol Fish & Game Protective Association will be open to all interested trap shooters, beginning at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. No regular matches or contests are planned by the trap committee. Ammunition will be available on the grounds.

The grounds and equipment have been put in excellent condition to make pleasant shooting now, and in anticipation of the inter-club shoots which are scheduled to get underway in September.

Official seasons . . . the legal season for ducks in Pennsylvania this year is from October 21 to November 19, and in New Jersey the season is open on November 18 and close on December 17th. A four-bird daily limit has been set.

According to officials of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service the limited season and bag limits were necessary to offset two factors threatening a wildlife population: (1) a greatly increased number of hunters and the danger that the dust storms may destroy the breeding areas of waterfowl. These same storms were responsible for the all-time low of a million a few years ago.

Meeting . . . next Tuesday evening, August 12, the Bristol Fish & Game Protective Association will hold its monthly meeting in the Odd Fellows' Hall, Walnut and Radcliffe streets, beginning at eight o'clock.

Although the business will be devoted mainly to a business session, members (and interested non-members) are asked to attend. One of the items of business will be completion of plans for the annual open fishing contest sponsored by the club for one day at Silver Lake each year.

Trick shooting . . . the ability to hit difficult targets with a rifle can be learned by the average person if he has a little patience. Since Revolutionary days Americans have had enough patience to master not only rifle but all other kinds of firearms.

However, years ago, say Dot and Ernie Lind, Western-Winchester exhibition shooters, some old-time shooters who were too lazy or unable to perform their feats legitimately but anxious to impress theatrical audiences with their alleged prowess developed a number of ingenious ways to give the idea they were crack marksmen.

These were the "trick" shooters. They got their name because their acts were actually tricks and not exhibitions of genuine marksmanship. Although exhibition shooters today do not deserve to be known as trick shooters, this name has stuck to embarrass genuine exhibition shooters. The hidden balloon trick is an example. The feat is to hit a poker chip on the stage with a 22 rifle from the rear of a theatre. The old-time trick shooter glued the chip on a balloon about eighteen inches in diameter and suspended it behind a curtain in such a way that only the poker chip was visible. Then his target was not just the chip, but an eighteen-inch balloon hidden behind the curtain.

Still mediocre . . . although scores of persistent anglers still are working the Canal and Silver Lake very few are meeting with any degree of success. Haven't heard of any exceptional catches from either water so far this season.

and not for use in Indonesia. The Indonesian Republic informed the United Nations Security Council it was "fully prepared" to accept any council decision in the dispute with the Netherlands. The good offices of the United States were accepted as a means of speeding international action.

American generals clashed with Soviet officials in Korea and Australia. A demand to place Korean highest leaders on virtual trial was rejected, and Soviet seizure of a jointly owned American-British refinery in Austria was protested.

William P. Odom started on his solo round-the-world flight from Chicago, reached Gander, Newfoundland, in 5 hours 18 minutes and then took off an hour later for Paris.

JOINT CELEBRATION

ANDALUSIA, Aug. 8 — A joint birthday celebration was held on the lawn at the home of Mrs. Robert Barnhill, this week. The guests of honor were Mrs. Barnhill and Thomas Gardner. Table decorations were in pink and white. Others attending: Mrs. Thomas Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. George Bauers, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Ingram, Miss Kay Lang, Miss Alice Traub, Andalusia; Mrs. Jane Gale, Philadelphia.

Inside Your Congress

Hampden and Pym who threw down the tax gauntlet to Charles I.

Blackstone said that the common law consisted of "those usages and customs which have prevailed . . . since the memory of man runneth not to the contrary." Usage and custom had left the taxing power wholly in Congress' hands. Time and again our courts have read the unwritten law into the Constitution itself.

Anglo-Saxon liberty was won when the power of the king to tax was ended. Now we are told that existing taxes can never be reduced against the will of a President and one-third of one House of Congress.

Of course, Americans will not long stand for "one-third" government. They will either change Presidents or Senators. Or, if the President continues to abuse his veto power, Congress will write more and more laws that expire on a certain date so that no veto could keep them alive. Such laws could then be continued only if a majority of both Houses agree. Congress has already been forced to do this very thing.

The power to tax is the greatest power in government. It should be left in the hands of the representatives of the people.

Congressman Knutson, Chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, just before the House voted 299 to 108 to override the veto, quoted in the Congressional Record the following statement by the Committee for Constitutional Government:

"To Members of Congress:

"After centuries of struggle during which English liberty had been established by parliaments wresting the taxing power from the king, the founding fathers wrote into our Constitution the wise provision that taxing power and tax policy should rest in the Congress and not in the Executive.

"Now the representatives of the American people, in both Houses of Congress, have twice voted overwhelmingly to reduce income taxes. This reduction is essential to provide incentive and to permit the capital accumulation needed to finance new enterprises and to expand old ones, thus providing a broader base for taxes and greater assurance of continuing employment. More important a great constitutional question is at stake.

"The President alone is the obstacle to the fulfillment of the people's will. Do you believe that the decision should rest, as provided for in the Constitution, with the people's representatives or with one man?"

Congressman Knutson said: "The points raised by this statement are unanswerable."

Cape Cod Compact and Economical, They Rate High in Popularity

THERE is an appeal to the Cape Cod style of house which endears it to the hearts of thousands of prospective home builders. Distinguishing features of Cape Cod houses are the steeply-pitched roof with gable ends, with the eave line low (coming to about the level of the first-floor ceilings), and with the chimney designed to accommodate several flues. Double-hung windows and shutters are generally used. The walls may be clapboards or shingles, though brick, too, is used, and often stone is combined with siding for the exterior. Dormers are popular, as pictured in the three styles featured here. The main entrance is generally placed in the exact center of the front elevation, and the windows are arranged symmetrically on either side. The Cape Cod house is an economical one to build, easy to keep up, and easy to heat. It looks good on either a small or a large lot which contributes to its universal appeal. (International)

THIS is a true Cape Cod with a two-car garage attached in the rear.

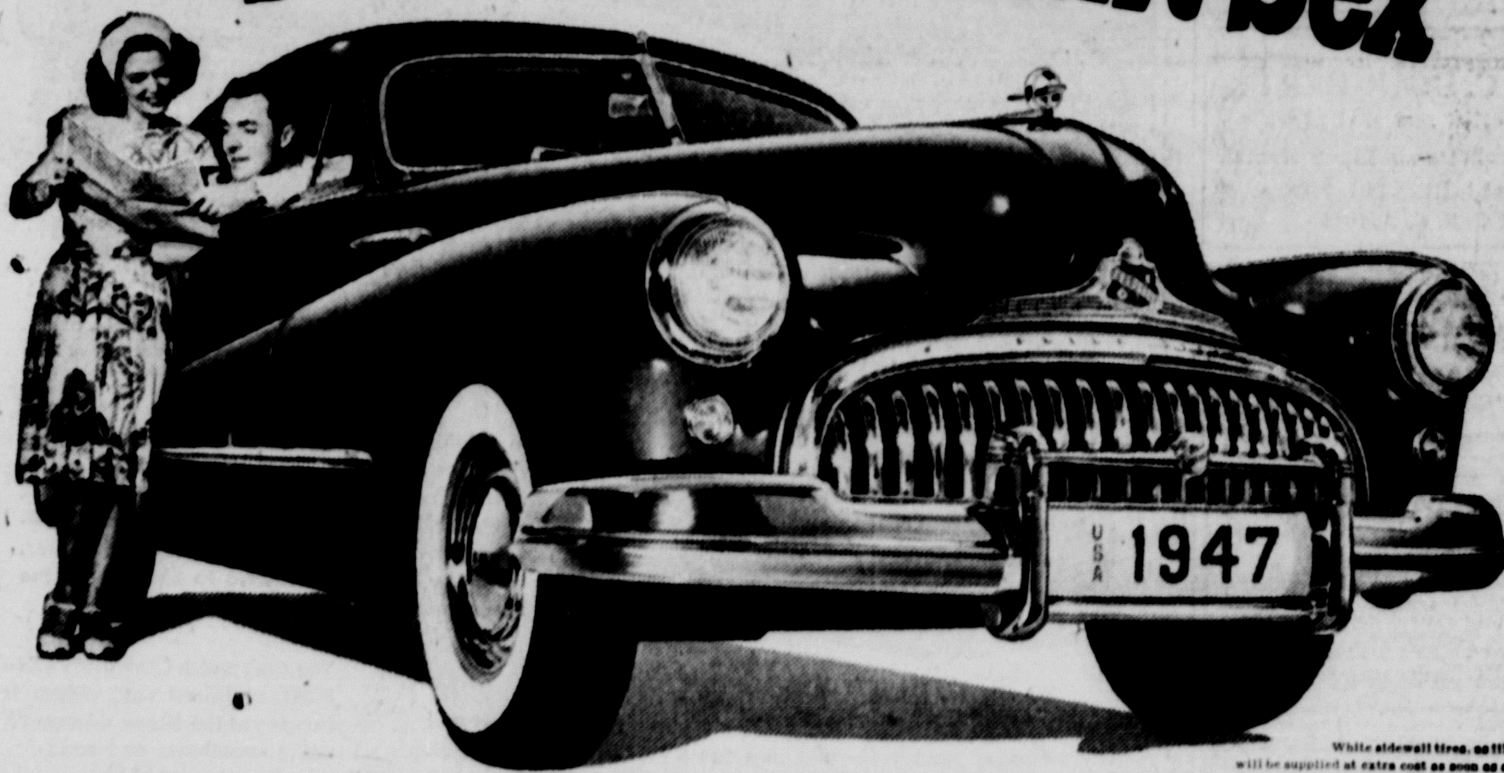

SMALL or large, the Cape Cod retains its charm.

WHITE-WASHED brick is a popular variation of style.

Tip from the Smart Sex

White sidewall tires, as illustrated, will be supplied at extra cost as soon as available.

Who is it that's first to spot — and quickest to go for — a really fresh new fashion idea when it comes along?

The ladies, of course!

And who is it that, according to careful surveys, put Buick far ahead of its price class and up among the lowest-priced three when they name the car of their innermost choice?

The fair sex — but naturally!

And who is it, when you come right down to it, that gets the most practical use from enough stirring Fireball power to handle the day's travel-jobs without strain and struggle?

Who relishes most the restful ease of wide, cushiony seats, and the blissful gentleness of all-coil springs that make rough roads well-mannered and good roads glass-smooth?

Who goes for a car big enough to be company-minded — yet light and easy enough in handling to park without a tussle, and flit shadow-light through market-hour traffic?

Who, good friends, has the family's smartest eye-for-a-buy — the shrewdest size-up of what's really good?

No one but the Lady of the Household!

So we toss out this thought to you menfolks:

Chances are that you've been hankering for the kind of thrill that lurks in this great-hearted, great-powered beauty.

You'd sort of like to get your hands on a car as big and mighty as this — if you thought the better half could be sold on it.

Take our tip — she's already sold. Favored as it is by red-blooded males, no Buick we've ever offered has won the smart sex quite like this one.

So why not pull a pleasant surprise some evening soon? Just come home and say, "Well, I placed an order for a Buick today. They're taking 'em with or without a car to trade."

Then watch her fall all over your neck!

Present Variety of Gifts To Miss Evelyn Harrar

A miscellaneous shower was given to Miss Evelyn Harrar, of Rosa avenue, Croydon, on Wednesday evening by Mrs. Charles E. Weik, of Otter street, and held at the home of Mrs. Weik's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William McHugh, Corson St.

Yellow and white was the decorative scheme. A social evening was enjoyed and refreshments served. The invitation list included: Mrs. Michael Keating and daughter Sara Jane, Mrs. Francis Logue, Mrs. John Bassett, Mrs. Charles Frontario, Mrs. Leonard Bassett, Mrs. James Hoffman, Sr., and daughters, Blanche, Helen, Teresa and Frances, Mrs. James Hoffman, Jr., Mrs. Albert Gross, Jr., Mrs. James Monti, Mrs. Samuel Mastriano, Mrs. Albert Gross, 3rd, Miss Mary Mulligan and Miss Kay McHugh, of Bristol; Mrs. L. Harrar, Mrs. Edward Harrar, Mrs. Ethel Dransfield and daughters Harriet and Margaret, Mrs. Ruth McLean and Miss Marion Harrar, Croydon.

Today's Quiet Moment

By The Rev. Herman H. Doh
Pastor, First Baptist Church
Andalusia

Our Father and our God, we pray that Thy Holy Spirit may descend on us, making us aware of our need of Thee. May He comfort those who mourn; strengthen the weak; encourage the faint-hearted and bring back the wandering ones. May He so convict of sin that we shun the very appearance of evil, remembering that "those who are led by the Spirit of God these are the sons of God." In Jesus' Name. Amen.

COTTON PICKING FOR VACATION

Striped cotton swim suit, pretty in and out of the water, by Tina Leser.

WHAT happens after you get there is half the fun of any vacation. But what you take along is, definitely, the other half. And, of course, the one depends upon the other, generally speaking. All this is especially true this Summer, with every choice under the sun in beach and playclothes.

A good bet for anybody's money because it is one of this season's prettiest examples of the dressmaker look for the beach is the blue and white striped cotton swim suit pictured. Designed by New York's Tina Leser, it has a becomingly gored skirt and a camisole ruffle around the top of the bodice.

Most collections of New York designers star the "bathing costume," pairing a swim suit with a little matching cape or shawl, a skirt or a coat. Short beach dresses in stripes, plaids, checks and any number of new and exciting cottons that look as though they were imported from Guatemala or the South Seas make perfect dance dresses. Some of the new cottons are strapless and are worn with little cover-up boleros, first for travel, next for beach, and again for a whirl with your partner.

FLOCK, HOLDER OF STOCK CAR RECORD, MAY ADD LAURELS

200-Mile National Championship To Be Staged at Langhorne, Sunday

RECORD ANTICIPATED

Pepper Cunningham, of Trenton, To Again Be In The Races

The holder of the world's record for a 100-mile stock car race will have an opportunity to add to his laurels when the 200-mile National Championship is staged on Sunday at Babcock's Langhorne Speedway.

LUCKY SAVER

The 100-mile record-holder is Bob Flock, Atlanta, Ga. And "the fastest mile dirt track in the world" is the title enjoyed by the Langhorne racing strip. As recently as last summer a world's record for one mile was set there by Rex Mays.

Bob Flock, who recently won a 150-mile stock car feature at Daytona Beach, Fla., is a brother of Tony, winner of 3 of 5 stock car classics this year and who is the current leader in point standing.

With Pepper Cunningham, of Trenton, N. J., again in the race at Langhorne on Sunday, a new record would not be at all surprising. Cunningham was the winner of the 100-mile National stock car championship staged on the Lincoln Highway oval last summer.

Cunningham is driving a newly-rebuilt Ford but the car in which he won a year ago will also be in the race. Frank Mundy will chauffeur it. "Old No. 6" has probably been in more stock car races than any other machine of its kind.

JACK ETHRIDGE

Saturday, starting at noontime, the trials will be staged for possibly more than 100 cars, judging by the way in which the entry list is rapidly swelling. The fastest 40 cars in the trials will qualify for the big race on Sunday.

A guaranteed purse of $7,000 for the event includes qualifying awards on Saturday, lap money for each of the last 100 miles on Sunday, as well as the major prizes.

ETC will run special buses direct from Frankford avenue and Pratt street to the Speedway on Sunday, returning immediately after the race. This will be the season's third speed program at Langhorne Speedway.

Rohm & Haas Outfielder Is Now 21 Points Ahead of Rival

JOE CAHILL IS SECOND

Carter Returns To Lineup And Increases Average To .433

With an average of .521, "Wally" DeWitt, outfielder of the Rohm and Haas team, appears to be certain of the batting crown of the Bristol Suburban League. DeWitt is 21 points ahead of Joe Cahill, of Goodwill Hose, with only a week of baseball left.

"Boake" Carter, of the firemen, his average to .433 to take fifth place in the standing, one point ahead of "Rabbit" Palumbo, of St. Ann's, "Walt" Rothenbach, Langhorne Legion, is in third position ahead of Bert Barbetta, of St. Ann's.

GAME TO BE REPLAYED

At a meeting of the officials of the Bristol Youth League last evening in the Diamond Sporting Goods Store, Mill street, it was decided to replay the game between the Hibernians and Bristol Terrace teams. The game will be played Sunday on Leedom's field at 2:30 o'clock.

The semi-finals of the Youth League will get under way next Wednesday evening when the Bell's Aces meet the winner of the Hibernians-Terrace tilt. This will be a three game series, with the second game being played the following Sunday.

STARS IN SIGHT

The big guns of the entire flaming National League are moving into Shibe's here. The race is growing hotter. Who's going to cop the flag? The Phillies will have their say about that. Come out and watch the Phillies; always fighting, always colorful. This is the last big home-stand. Every club in the League moves in with stars gleaming. The red hot Dodgers, the driving Cards, the Cubs and Pirates, the surprising Reds, the fence-smashing Giants, the bustling Braves. Come out and cheer Harry Walker as he battles for the batting crown. Come out and watch Emil Verban, Del Ennis, Johnny Wyrostek, Andy Seminik. Cheer the veteran winners, Dutch and Schoolie. And remember: Every minute of every game the Phillies will be in there fighting.
